Large and lots of windows letting an abundance of light into lobby

Front entrance is now main entrance for everyone;
at ground level with drop-off driveway
